

RESCUED BOYS LATELY RESCUED

Were Thrown into Water When Flat Boat and Several Canoes in Which They Were Being Towed Were Tipped Over by High Waves—Boys Who Were Members of Springfield Boys' Club Were Camping On an Island—Had Been to Mainland for Athletic Sports and Were On Way Back to Camp When Disaster Occurred—Director Gives Life In Effort to Rescue Struggling Boys.

Springfield, Mass., July 25.—Eleven boys, all members of the Springfield Boys' Club, were drowned this afternoon in Big pond, East Otis, when a flatboat and several canoes in which they were being towed were tipped over by high waves.

The boys, who were in camp with 42 other boys on an island, had been on the mainland for athletic sports and were being taken back for dinner. About half way across a high wave came up, causing a wave to partly fill the flatboat with water. When the launch towing them turned to go back to the mainland, other waves quickly filled the boat and it soon sank. Some of the boys held on to the boat, but when one of the youngsters lost his hold all of the others on that side of the boat started to rescue him. This caused the boat to turn over and all of them held. Other boys, who were following in canoes, paddled into the struggling mass of humanity and some of these were capsized also, accounting for other drownings.

Santissimo, who was one of the four directors in the launch, when he saw the panic among the boys, jumped into the water in an effort to rescue. He was soon pulled down by the struggling boys and drowned with the others.

The boys missing are Fred Miller, Edward Boucher, Amos Newell, Fred Stevens, Francis Moriarty, Harry Nash, Donald Dillia, Mitchell Levine, Leonard B. Boucher, and Walter Robert. The director, Walter Sears and Earl Robertson.
